SUCCESS IN LIFE IN THE FACE OF TRAUMA

CAN TRAUMA HAVE A MEANING?

Yes!

OPEN THE INNER CORE OF THE TRAUMA AND AT THE SAME TIME THE INNER POWER,
LET THEM UNITE AND THEY GIVE MEANING TO LIFE.

Every society have trauma and are traumatized, and we do not see that. Also, organisations and groups have this pattern. This creates a hidden dynamic we do not understand. During this training we are going to open to heal the core in traumas, learn to understand the big picture behind traumas, learn to see survivals and gifts that creates from traumas and learn how to approach humans from "not knowing".

Welcome to learn how to work with trauma to open up for Reconstructive. Trauma creates survival strategies both on individual and collective level, but trauma can also open for you as origin. This can take you to a totally different collective level. We all have a choice in which direction we will go as adults both with new and old traumas. Every trauma has the same core and this is the same core as from the beginning in humans, in organisations and in societies.

HILDUR VEA

This is not therapy. This is to open for your gifts, your mission and next action in life. We work with Traumahology and Reconstructive. This training is a good way of learning about trauma in relation to yourself, the people you work with as individuals and in groups. This is also a training about traumas in organisation and society. We go through different ways of approaching trauma and the focus is how trauma can open for gifts and missions. You will also learn a lot of tools both for working with individuals, groups and organisations.
